Alaska Northstar Resources Hires Senior Leadership

Montgomery, AL – Alaska Northstar Resources, LLC (ANR) announces the hiring of two new members of its senior leadership team. ANR welcomes Mr. Chris Turnham as Chief Operating Office and Mr. Paul Wamsted as Chief Information Officer.

Mr. Turnham brings 20+ years of Information Technology operations experience, with over 15 years in Government contracting. Chris has significant expertise in information systems networking, server virtualization, cloud computing, and IT project management. He holds a Project Management Professional (PMP), a highly sought-after certification that proves demonstrated expertise in Project Management and is highly recognized among ANR's government customers.

Mr. Wamsted brings over 15 years' Information Technology experience in Government contracting. He is a recognized subject matter expert in relational database management, cloud computing, and cyber security. Paul has a Master's Degree in Technical Communication and is a seasoned Solution Architect having designed and submitted many successful, highly complex proposals for major Government IT acquisitions. He holds a Certified Information Systems Security Professional (CISSP), an in-demand cyber security certification recognized for the demonstration of cyber security expertise.

"We're excited that Chris and Paul have joined ANR. They bring a depth of experience that will help us win and perform work that will allow ANR to provide a significant return for SAI shareholders," said Tim Castro, President of ANR.
