Alaska NorthStar Resources, LLC awarded a contract with USAF

Sitka, AK – Alaska Northstar Resources is pleased to announce that they were awarded a software development contract with the United States Air Force within the Air Education and Training Command's (AETC) Total Force Training Record (TFTR) system. Alaska Northstar Resources will be providing software development support and technical expertise to AETC to develop TFTR and migrate data from pre-existing Air Force training systems into the finalized system. TFTR will serve as the system of record to track individual Air Force member's training activities. The primary work will be performed at Joint Base San Antonio in San Antonio, Texas. "This is an exciting opportunity for ANR that will continue to build our software development qualifications, and it provides an excellent gateway to future opportunities in the Joint Base Antonio Area," said Tim Castro, President of Alaska Northstar Resources. Performance of the TFTR contract begins on 30 July 2020.
